

Katherine Milne

Costume Designer.

Bio

Katherine Milne is a Melbourne based costume designer and stylist with over twenty years of experience across film, television and commercials.

Her design credits include Killer Elite starring Jason Statham and Robert De Niro, The Whistleblower, set in China and Africa, starring Tang Wei. Most recently she has just completed filming Liam Neeson's latest film Blacklight, set in Washington DC.

Originally from Auckland New Zealand, Katherine began her career on the cult classic TV series Xena and Hercules. Since then she has worked continuously in the film industry on numerous local and International film productions.

Katherine excels at managing large scale departments and budgets. She has significant experience with executing speciality costumes and any stunt action costume requirements.

Katherine thrives working in the collaborative creative ecosystem of film and television production, embraces each new design challenge and loves to create authentic characters and their worlds through costume.
