BIO

I am a Melbourne-based filmmaker with extensive experience in production and accounting for film and high-end television.

Having grown up as the child of immigrant parents in the Northern Territory to an Indonesian mother and a German father, I have developed a keen interest in culturally diverse stories, particularly those with indigenous and ethnic themes.

Recently, I produced the short film "Yellow," which earned a BAFTA nomination and was shortlisted for an Oscar in 2024. I am passionate about bringing underrepresented stories to the forefront of the industry and am eager to further develop my skills.
