

NICK GODKIN

SOUND

ABOUT

Nick Godkin is a Melbourne-based Location Sound Recordist, providing location recording services both in Australia and internationally. With over 25 years of experience in the sound departments of productions for film and television, Nick has worked extensively on drama projects, commercials and documentaries

Nick is known for the energy, enthusiasm and dedication that he brings to set, whether he's heading up the sound department on a feature film or working intimately on a small documentary. While slotting seamlessly into every production he crews on, Nick takes a calm and clear-headed approach to all aspects of his work.

Adaptable and creative in his mission to record the best sound for his clients, Nick is armed with an extensive collection of the latest gear and is equipped to tackle sound recording in just about any environment.
